Local Chamber of Commerce Takes Membership With National Club

Businessmen in Cameron have teamed with 1,300,000 others throughout the nation to work for good citizenship, good government and good business.

By joining the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce takes its place with more than 2,500 chambers and some 450 trade associations in an organization which yields a powerful influence in national affairs, and which will bring to Cameron the advantages of pooled information, ideas and advice about improving the local community.

In the National Chamber, American businessmen work as a team. They work on the theory that business cannot flourish and expand, and conditions cannot improve in one area or one field, if the country as a whole is not strong, productive and prosperous, and if business in general is not free to advance.

The future of Cameron, therefore, becomes a matter of concern to businessmen all over the country. At the same time, local businessmen obtain a voice in framing policies which guide the national organization as it copes with the urgent and complex problems of these troubled times.

Business leadership throughout the country had long felt the need for an instrument to coordinate and give public expression to business opinion. A small group had been working quietly with the thought that a national businessmen's organization

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER ADMIRES JAPANESE PHONE SYSTEM WHERE YOU PAY ONLY WHEN YOU FEEL LIKE IT

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River must have forgotten the wrong number the last time he was in town to use the telephone, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor:

I was reading in a copy of a newspaper which my wife had lined a bucket with to keep the eggs from breaking in she was taking to town, some people thought radio would put the newspapers out of business, then they decided that television would, but I've got my first time to see anybody try to line an egg bucket with a radio or a television set, at any rate, I was out here reading this newspaper and trying to stay warm on the south side of the barn during the recent cold snap and an article attracted my attention.

It was about telephones in Japan. According to it, up to now the public telephones in Japan have been on an honor system, after you get through using one you're supposed to drop a coin in the slot, instead of before, which just goes to show how backward the Orientals are, because the telephone company found out most people, after they got through talking, didn't figure the conversation was worth a nickel, and left nothing.

However, I sort of like some aspects of the system. Under our system here in the United States, you pay a nickel at a public telephone before you get to talk to your party, and while this is fine for the telephone company and maybe all right with the person making the call, it leaves out of consideration the rights of the party being called. Maybe he wasn't interested in being bothered at all. Under the Japanese system, at least one side of the two parties had a chance to decide whether he'd gotten his money's worth, but under ours neither has.

I suppose the telephone company could install a coin box on both ends of the connection, requiring a nickel to start the call and a nickel on the other end to receive it, but most people are so curious they'd go ahead and drop a nickel in just to see who's calling and all it would amount to is just another rate increase.

The system I prefer is to put a meter on telephones, with a loud ticking noise ticking off the seconds at so much a second. This I figure would cut down on telephone conversations by at least 50 per cent, and I believe you could cut 50 per cent of the talk-in out of telephone conversations and still get just as much factual information transmitted. Under the present system, some women get twenty-five times as much use out of a telephone as others, but they're both charged the same.

Chargin by the minute though would bring a strong protest from a lot of women, and I want it understood I am not sponsoring this move. I haven't even got a telephone. I can't even keep my fences up, let alone a telephone wire.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Puerto Rican Head Expresses Regret To Texas Farm Bureau

Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond today received a message from the president of the Puerto Rico Farm Bureau expressing deep regrets about the "savage criminal act" of the Puerto Rican extremists who shot down five Congressmen Monday in the House of Representatives.

"Puerto Ricans are proud of their American citizenship. Our favorable economic and social condition is due mainly to the generous cooperation granted by the United States Congress. Please give radio and press publicity of our reaction so that people in the United States will know the true feelings of Puerto Ricans."

The telegram was signed by Jose Ramon Quinones, president of the Puerto Rico Farm Bureau. The Commonwealth of Puerto Rico is the only United States possession which has a Farm Bureau organization.

Texas Power & Light Company Named Winner in Contest

Texas Power & Light Company was named first place winner among major electric power companies in the National Safety Council's contest for 1953 according to the announcement received from the National Safety Council's headquarters at Chicago.

Frequency rate of the Texas Power & Light Company was 1.57 lost time accidents per million manhours worked. Georgia Power Company, second place winner, had a frequency rate of 1.71, and Pennsylvania Power & Light, third place winner, had a frequency rate of 2.71. The national average frequency rate for all electric utilities was 7.8.

Texas Power & Light Company had a total of 9 lost time accidents during 1953, none of which was fatal, and the man-hours worked by employees of that company during the year totaled 5,721,933. The company employs approximately 2,800 regular employees, of which 1,800 are engaged in outdoor work consisting of maintenance and construction work, and operation of power plants, substations and other physical equipment.

The TP&L Company also won first place in this contest for 1945, at which time its frequency rate was 2.47. Since that time the company has held either second or third place in 6 out of 8 years.

W. W. Lynch, president of the company, pointed out that TP&L Company maintains a Safety Department as a necessary phase of its operation. Its program consists primarily of (1) sound selection of men, (2) providing the best working conditions and tools, (3) a continuous training program, (4) constant inspection of physical facilities and work habits and (5) thorough accident investigation, with a view to preventing recurrence. Mr. Lynch added that the last lost time accident to an employee of the company occurred last August 19 and since that date company employees have worked 2,800,000 manhours without an accident involving lost time.

More Grass Is Being Used In Local Area For Erosion Control

A. W. Butts
Grass, nature's best erosion control and soil improvement tool, is being used by farmers more and more in this part of the state to do the conservation job that so many other practices has failed to do.
In Taylor and Central Texas Soil Conservation Districts, this year could easily start the trend to grassland farming in both the timbered sandy soils and the blackland clay and mixed soils. In these districts we have three, so called, introduced grasses that are most popular at this time. King Ranch bluestem seems to fit in the hard blackland soils. Some farmers in the Cameron area who have started seed bed preparation and are making plans for spring planting are Robert Tittsworth, Clem Tomek, Eugene Tomek, O. J. Curry, Ralph Michalka, Sim Atkinson and others in different parts of the area.

Buffel grass seems to have its reputation established in the sandy soils. A few plantings were established last year and many acres will be seeded in the next few months. Some who have started land preparation and fertilization are E. E. Williams, A. J. Hilderbrandt, Randolph Young, Frank Hanel and V. J. Cole.

In the bottoms and other wet natured soils Bermuda grass is still King. F. H. Scarborough is now sodding twenty acres in his Little River bottom; others are preparing their seed beds now and will sod or seed as soon as possible. Charles Hensley and Lawrence McClaren have established about two acre plots of coastal Bermuda. They feel that this grass will do the same conservation job as the native Bermuda and at the same time produce a lot more beef. Both plan to use it quite extensively in their grass program.

Every community in the county should have a fair acreage of the best adapted grass to observe this year. From these observations district supervisors are anticipating a movement toward grass in the crop rotation and urge that each farmer utilize the educational, technical and financial assistance that is at his command.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Adams of Dallas have concluded a visit in Cameron. They were guests in the home of Mr. Adams' brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adams. While here they called on several of their friends for brief visits.

The better you are, the less you have to prove it.
And that's how it is with a Buick Century.
Of course it's a spectacular performer—a car with instantly responsive action.
It has to be, for this one combines a high-compression 200-horsepower V8 engine with a nimble weight of only 3866 pounds as it comes off the assembly line.

That's a power-to-weight ratio that chalks up a new record—a ratio that no other Buick has ever reached before.
It can spin your wheels on a dry pavement if you give it the gun, but why waste rubber?
If some show-off wants to get the jump on you at a traffic light, why not let him have fun? He isn't kidding anyone but himself, when the name on your car is CENTURY.

simply this: You know so well what it can do that you never have to prove it.
That lets you enjoy the tireless ease of its gait in ordinary driving, when only a fraction of its eager power is working. It gives you a quick reserve for breasting a hill—and the happy knowledge that there's still more to come in a sudden emergency.
Sure, this is more power than most people really have to have. But you can hardly call it extravagant, when you are buying more horsepower per dollar in a CENTURY than you get in any other car in America.

What Was This Call Worth?

"Mommy, can I stay at grandmother's tonight?" That was little Carol's very first telephone call — a real thrill that can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Yet, Mrs. Caroline Niemeyer, Carol's grandmother, can tell you what that call cost. She is one of a group of customers who kept day-by-day records of calls made for a week — a total of 30 calls covering 133 miles. Then she broke her telephone bill down into the actual cost per call. "I was amazed," she reported, "at how little my telephone service cost for all the convenience and happiness it delivers." SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY... Weather Conditions Need To Be Observed By Successful Farmer

Roy M. Wright

Weather conditions being one of the paramount factors a farmer has to take into consideration if he is to make a success of farming, the fact that many farmers in all parts of Texas are changing from cash-crop farming to a diversified system may be attributed to a great extent to unfavorable weather conditions. This is indicated by figures taken from adjustment loans FHA has made; amounting to more than $12 million since July 1, 1953. This statement was made by L. J. Cappleman, the agency's State Director, in an announcement from his Dallas office.

Farmers who in the past have depended almost entirely on cash crops, in recent years have been among those most in need of farming adjustments, he said. "Benefits of these adjustments include a sound system of farming which follows diversified production on their farms," Cappleman said. "We found many farmers seeking credit necessary to put in livestock enterprises to go along with their crops; and FHA provided such credit. There is a growing tendency toward pasture improvements; and the farmers we are serving are expected to develop good pastures for their livestock." He added that this type of adjustment usually takes a few years for completion, which is taken into consideration in the making of an adjustment type loan. No more funds for adjustment loans will be available until new appropriations are ready for disbursement July 1.

Many farmers needing loans for a short time — perhaps for only a year — or farmers needing emergency loans in designated areas, are finding the credit they need at the FHA county office. Funds for long term loans for purchasing or developing family-type farms will also be available July 1.

A special program of loans to livestock — men, hard hit by drought conditions is also administered by FHA. These loans are to help farmers retain their normal positions in the production of cattle and sheep and to restock ranges where herds were reduced by drouth or economic reasons.

No matter what type of credit is sought, FHA cannot approve applications from farmers whose credit needs can be handled by private or cooperative lenders. Banks and other lending agencies have referred hundreds of applicants they could not accommodate to FHA offices since July 1, 1953.

In the eight months' period following June 30, 1953, a total of over 14,000 loans were made for more than $44,750,000. Of this amount $12 million of special livestock loans were made to 800 ranchmen; and approximately $20 million in emergency loans to 10 thousand farmers, of whom 150 received $508,000 to establish or to improve water facilities on their farms.

Milam and Burleson County farmers are served by a local office directed by Roy M. Wright, County Supervisor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

means for the public to get acquainted with him as well as an opportunity to study the Bible together.

The Singletons moved here from Goliad, Texas, where they worked with the Church of Christ for two years.

Mr. Singleton is a graduate of Abilene Christian College with a B. A. Degree in Bible. Prior to his becoming a student at A. C. C. he served three years in the armed forces. Serving in a medical unit with combat infantrymen, he is a winner of the Purple Heart and Silver Star.

77 Drive In

They also found the projection and sound equipment to be better than the vast majority of such installations anywhere.

As their first of many improvement projects in the operation of the "77" Drive In, they have joined the largest group of independently owned theatre buyer and booker organizations, the Index Booking Agency of Dallas. This gives them constant and personal representation on the purchase and booking of the best and latest film, and enables them to show all the output of Hollywood and other production centers to the best advantage of their patrons.

Among the outstanding films planned for early showing at the "77" through their buying and booking connections in Dallas are: "Long, Long Trailer" with Lucille Ball and Desi Arnez; "Easy to Love" Esther Williams; "Rose Marie"; "Money from Home" Martin & Lewis; "Red Garters" Rosemary Cloney; "Here Come the Girls" Bob Hope; "Botany Bay"; Alan Ladd; "French Line"; Jane Russell; "Glenn Miller Story" James Stuart, June Allison; "Sasatchawan" Alan Ladd; "War Arrow" Jeff Chandler; "Border River" and "Black Horse Canyon" Joel McCrea; Abbott & Costello; "Boy from Oklahoma" Will Rogers Jr.; "His Majesty O'Keefe"; Bert Lancaster; "Hondo" John Wayne in 3D; "Riot in Cell Block 11"; "Go, Man, Go" Harlem Globe Trotters; etc.

A well rounded and carefully booked program will be provided under the new policy, with only the best of productions as the principal features and cartoon comedies in color and other selected short subjects.

The Smiths also plan to present the new Cinemascope productions such as "THE ROBE" and similar roadshow attractions as soon as suitable equipment is available.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are active in their theatre operations as well as their son John who will devote his spare time from high school to the theatre. They plan a remodelled concession room to offer every popular item in demand in this department under the most sanitary and pleasant surroundings.

Until such time as Index Booking Agency can rearrange bookings the present change of program will continue. No change in admission prices is contemplated, and children under 12 will continue to be admitted free of charge.

Mr. Smith has especially asked that notice be given on the cancellation of one of the bookings advertised in the March theatre calendar. This is the previously announced showing of Skid Row and Night at the Follies on March 12 and 13 at a late showing. In as much as the policy of the theatre under new ownership is strictly a family operation with every attraction carefully selected as entirely suitable for children and family patrons, the Smiths have cancelled this program as unsuitable in their opinion.

The new owners have taken possession of the "77" and have moved to Cameron as their future home. They will be especially pleased to make the acquaintance of local citizens as quickly as possible and to hear from any and all as to their suggestions for the best in family movie entertainment.

C of C — could be formed to accomplish the purposes sought.

In the summer of 1912, at the request of this group, President Taft called a meeting in Washington of local chamber of commerce representatives. Thus, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States came into being. Its beginnings were small, but as businessmen in cities and towns over the nation came to know of its work the membership grew. The bulk of the country's trade associations came into the membership so as to give voice to specific industries. The local chambers gave representation to business geographically and to civic interests as represented in the activities of local chambers.

Today, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce is a part of this far flung fabric of business representation — big and little — which might be called the nation's "business front."

The National Chamber interprets to government the considered views of business on issues of national importance, and in turn interprets to its business membership the moves of the legislative and administrative branches of government. It has helped to create within local chambers of commerce more than 2,400 committees on national affairs which conduct continuous campaigns for more efficient government.

At all times, the national organization is ready to survey business opinion in the interest of applying business experience for the solution of economic problems. That function has been welcomed by public representatives in the nation's capital, who know that businessmen conduct their operations with the knowledge that the public welfare must at all times be safeguarded.

An early president of the National Chamber, asked to suggest a slogan for the organization, without hesitation responded: "If it is not in the public interest it is not in the interest of business."

SECRET

erom Cornhuskers, a local quartet composed of Wayne Fisher, Phil McCall, Ladis Marek, John Solomon and directed by Mrs. Mark Magers.

The coveted McCullin Award, a loving cup awarded annually to the most outstanding Cameron citizen of the year, was presented to Mrs. Magers by Rev. John C. Solomon, last years winner.

Mrs. Magers was publicly commended for her untiring efforts in instigating and working with various musical groups; and for advancing cultural advantages in Cameron during the past year.

Milton Schiller, master of ceremonies for the evening, introduced the outgoing president, Richard Moseley, who in turn presented the other outgoing officers.

Louis McKee, the incoming Chamber of Commerce President, was then introduced and gave a short welcoming address. He introduced each of his fellow officers, Henry Seibman, first vice-president and Leo Fuchs, second vice-president and the new directors of the organization. They are Max Howard, Woodrow Lowe, Drayton McLane, Jack Prescott, N. L. Caperton, Albert Collins, Dr. George Bowman, Lester Williams and Jimmy Wiggs, president and representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Outgoing J. C. president, Frank Richter, Jr., was also introduced by Mr. McKee.

Robert D. Abel, Jr., was re-elected and installed to the post of General Manager.

The guest speaker, Senator Secret, of Temple, State Senator for District 13, who was accompanied by his wife, was then introduced and in a humorous vein spoke on his experiences as a teacher in the Temple schools, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as a lawyer, and later in politics.

Several serious subjects were broached, but the theme of his speech was the need of a sense of humor. He advised all those present that every problem can be met and solved more easily if the person involved would learn to depend upon a well-rounded sense of humor.

One of the more serious points Senator Secret brought out was his opinion that the practice of publicly condemning a person prior to a conviction, as currently practiced by the Un-American Activities Committee, will cause more harm than good. He added that although he is not opposed to the fifth amendment, but the manner in which it is being used.

He dwelled momentarily on individual rights and the need of the democracy, or government, in working for the people.

In conclusion he pointed out that every bad situation is made worse by the absence of a sense of humor.

Background and dinner music was supplied by Miss Shirley Horstmann.

Table and floral designs which consisted of elaborate arrangements of iris and redbud, were made by the Methodist women and wives of the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

During the course of the evening a wire from Bob Poage was received, stating his regrets at being unable to attend the banquet.

Modern Pay And Incentive Plan Recommended For Post Office

Postmaster John K. Hays of Cameron endorsed the postal pay increase and incentive plan recommended to the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee on February 16 by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

"This plan," Hays said, "provides equal pay for equal work. It opens the door of opportunity to postal employees who merit promotions based on improved performance. It should help attract good people to the Postal Service. The public should benefit by better mail service. In my judgement, it is money well spent."

Hays continued to say, "While fourth-class postmasters and rural carriers are not now included in this plan, their jobs are to be studied later."

The principal features of the proposed plan, according to Postmaster Hays are:

1. Clerks and carriers would be paid $210 more a year as a starting salary; and their maximum rates increased by $100 or about 5 cents an hour.

2. The time needed by most employees to advance from the minimum to the maximum salary rate for their job would be reduced in most cases by two years.

3. More adequate pay differentials are provided for employees with higher skills, supervisors and managerial personnel who, at present, have slight incentive to rise above routine work levels.

4. The salary of no individual employee will be decreased as a result of the application of this new plan.

5. Supervisors, who at present have single rates for their jobs, would be given the opportunity to progress within a rate range.

Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch

THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests.

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!

*Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Ford rides on a Ball-Joint cushion

...and it handles with ball-bearing ease

CONVENTIONAL KINGPIN SUSPENSION
depends on hinge-like joints for movement of front wheels up and down or right and left. This system also requires lubrication at 8 points of wear at each front wheel. Doesn't permit maximum up-and-down wheel travel and is not sealed against dirt and water.

NEW FORD BALL-JOINT FRONT SUSPENSION
replaces "hinges" for pivoting and up-and-down wheel movement with sealed ball joints. This eliminates 12 points of wear... helps keep front wheels in line longer. You get a smoother, more level ride. Your Ford keeps that new car "feel" longer.

It's THE GREATEST chassis advance in 20 years. And only the '54 Ford in its field has it! It pays off with the smoothest ride you've ever experienced in a low-priced car... easier handling... fewer service worries... and many, many other advantages.

And besides this revolutionary advance, Ford offers two brand new deep-block power plants: the 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the 115-h.p. I-block Six. You'll also find a new stronger frame... a beautiful new Astra-Dial control panel... new styling inside and out... plus all the other fine-car features that have already established Ford as America's "worth more" car!
